Teachers In Rural Schools Complete Standard Tests

Teachers of forty rural schools in Collin County have completed their tests to determine if they are entitled to state affiliation. A check-up of the physical properties of these schools has been under way this week by S. O. Murdock, Deputy State School Superintendent. He has been making the rounds of the rural schools in company with County Superintendent J. W. Moseley and expects to complete the task this week.

By the use of a standard score card, supplied by the State Department of Education, Mr. Murdock is rating each school according to the size and condition of buildings, the equipment, lighting and ventilation and even the playgrounds and other facilities. These scores and the results of the tests of pupils, conducted last week by the teachers, will be sent to Austin when completed and will be passed on by the State Department of Education. Within about two months, it is expected County Superintendent Moseley will learn which schools have passed the tests, as each successful school will receive a certificate of affiliation.

Deputy State Superintendent Murdock, who has supervision over all of the schools in Collin, Denton, Grayson and Cooke Counties, lives in Denton and is visiting the schools in this, the Fifth District. This is the second time he has made a check-up of the physical properties of the schools, and the last time before his report and score cards are sent to Austin.

South Wilcox Church Host To League Union

The monthly League Union of the Methodist Young People of this district was held at the South Wilcox Methodist Church Tuesday Night, May 13. Frisco, Farmersville, First Church, McKinney, and South Wilcox were the Churches represented.

Miss Faye Tinsley, President of the Union of the host church, was in charge of the opening part of the program. The meeting opened by the group singing, "Are You Able," followed by prayer by Rev. T. Lee Miller, Pastor at Farmersville. After another song and brief address of welcome, a special instrumental number, "Lead Me Gently Home, Father," was rendered by Pete Powell, Duane Jordan, and Stanley Ward, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Ridley at the piano.

The program was then turned over to Jack Sears Ryan, who is President of the League Union of this District. He presented Miss Rachel Wallis, District Supervisor of Young People's work, who spoke on "Summer Assemblies."

The young people were invited to the church lawn where a recreational hour was enjoyed, carrying out a collegiate motif in the games and decorations. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

W. J. Hines of Plano is a patient in St. Paul's Hospital, Dallas.

Farm Production Subject Of Talk At Farm Bureau

"Farm Production Credits" was the topic of a most interesting and informative address delivered by O. G. Tumlinson, State Supervisor of the Production Credit Association, of Houston, before the Collin County Farm Bureau's monthly meeting in the District Courtroom here.

The attendance was not as large as was expected, but this was accounted for by the fact that farmers are taking advantage of the favorable weather to do their belated spring work in the fields. But what the meeting lacked in attendance was more than made up by the interesting program carried out. In charge of the program were W. M. Gibson of Melissa, W. A. Vines of Plano and R. J. Wilson of Prosper.

An interesting and a surprise feature of the program was a demonstration in parliamentary procedure presented by members of the Vocational - Agriculture Class of the Plano High School, who were brought to the meeting by their instructor, Prof. E. A. Randles. The boys showed just how they conducted their own meetings, and it was a revelation to the farmers and business men present to see how well the boys were versed in parliamentary law.

Everyone enjoyed viewing the motion picture entitled "Farmers In a Changing World," which had been sent here for the meeting by Texas A. & M. College. The reel was shown by Wre Sutherland of the McKinney Production Credit Association.

Charles Dooley, President of the Bureau, was here from Plano to preside and T. S. (Pat) Murphy, Secretary, reported on the progress of the membership drive. County Agent Jack McCullough was present.

Because the farmers will be very busy in the fields during the next sixty days, it was decided not to meet in June, so the next meeting will be held the second Tuesday in July.

Sherman Grocer Dies In Milwaukee; Funeral Thursday

Death came Monday at 4 p. m. to Will C. Eubanks, Sherman wholesale grocer for more than 40 years. Mr. Eubanks had been in declining health for two years and had been a patient since September in a Milwaukee hospital, where he died.

Mr. Eubanks was Vice President and Treasurer of the Williams-Eubank Grocery Company, inactive for the past two years.

The body arrived in Sherman Thursday morning and was taken to the Dannel-Scott funeral chapel, where final rites were held at 11 a. m. Thursday. Dr. L. L. McCutchen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was in West Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. W. L. Herner of Milwaukee and Miss Bessie Eubanks of Sherman; a brother, J. S. Eubanks, Sr., of Sherman; two nephews, H. Kirk Eubanks and J. S. Eubanks Jr., of Sherman, and two nieces, Miss Martha Eubanks of Sherman and Mrs. G. G. Preston of New York City.

Pallbearers were A. L. Williams, Sr., Harry Bean, John Marshall, Henry Bone, George Mattingly, M. S. Omohundro and Frank Trau, all of Sherman, and A. L. Williams, Jr., of McKinney.

Mr. Eubanks was born in Sherman, a son of the late Will C. and Mattie Eubanks. He received his education in the Sherman Public Schools, Austin College and at a business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He had been in the wholesale grocery business since he was 20 years old, formerly being with the old Patty-Joiner-Eubanks firm. He was the third generation to follow this line of work, the original Eubanks and Company being founded by his father and grandfather. The Williams-Eubanks firm is the outgrowth of Eubanks and Company, founded in 1868 by the late W. C. Eubanks, Sr., and J. J. Eubanks and the Patty-Joiner company, founded in 1872 by the late Capt. W. F. Patty and the late T. D. Joiner. The two houses consolidated in the early 89's and operated as the Patty-Joiner - Eubanks company until 1925 when A. L. Williams of Paris purchased the Patty-Joiner interests and W. C. Eubanks, Jr., continued with the firm until his health failed in 1939.

Mr. Eubanks was a member of the First Presbyterian church. He was a fancier of horses and his animals several years ago won prizes in North Texas show circles.

Nurses Needed As Part Of The Defense Program

As a part of the National Defense Program, the Government months ago began preparation to meet an anticipated need for an unusually large number of nurses, both in its military and civil services. The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open continuous examinations to secure nurses, but despite these examinations, there is a continuing acute shortage of nurses for the civil service positions.

The shortage is particularly noticeable with respect to some parts of the country. From some of the States, very few nurses apply for the civil service examinations.

From all parts of the country, floods of inquiries are coming into Washington from women who ask how they can serve their country in the present emergency. The word to nurses is that the nursing branch of the service is one that is vital to the success of the National Defense Program. The nurse examinations open the way to an opportunity to render patriotic service, and at the same time to serve in interesting and satisfying work. There is an opportunity for advancement, and the Government provides for retirement for superannuation or disability.

A large staff of nurses is employed regularly in the civil service—principally in the U. S. Public Health Service, the Indian Service, and the Veterans' Administration. They serve in hospitals and other medical centers throughout the United States and in the Panama Canal Zone and Alaska. Public health nurses carry on field work of community-health care and education, giving home care to the sick, class work in home hygiene, etc., principally in the Indian Service and the U. S. Public Health Service. In the more remote regions these nurses render first air, and they even give emergency medical treatment in the absence of a dictor. There has been an increased demand for public health nurses under the U. S. Public Health Service in extra-cantonment zones and where large defense industries are located.

Two examinations are now open for receipt of applications. One—Announcement No. 38—under the title of Public Health Nurse, $2,000 a year, and Graduate Nurse, $1,800 a year (for general staff duty), is open for the U. S. Publiv Health Service and the Indian Service, including Alaska. This is an "unasssembled" examination: Applicants are not given a written test but are rated on their professional training and experience as shown in their applications and by other evidence. The other—Announcement No. 100—under the title of Junior Graduate Nurse, $1,620 a year, is for the U. S. Public Health Service, the Indian Service, and the Veterans' Administration. This examination now includes a written test. It is expected, however, that it will be closed soon and reannounced as an "unassembled" examination. The Civil Service Commission does not expect to require a written test of persons who have already filed their applications but who have not been given the test.

The need for nurses is immediate. Apply now for further information at the office of the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at any first- or second-class post office, or write to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Funeral Services Held Saturday For Mrs. Lucy Ann Dulaney, 97, Oldest Resident Of City; Succumbed Friday

The remains of Mrs. Lucy Ann Dulaney, believed to be McKinney's oldest and one of the best known and loved religious characters in this section, now rests in peace in Pecan Grove cemetery, following impressive funeral services conducted at the home, by Dr. R. L. Cowan, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Dulaney, whose forefathers came to America from England during the Colonial Days and who fought in the Revolutionary and Indian Wars, had been a resident of McKinney and Collin County since before the Civil War. She was born March 21,1844, in Cooper County, Missouri, the daughter of the late Jesse Field and Martha Oglesby Field. The family came to Texas by caravan, and Lucy Ann Field, then a girl of 14, drove one of the family carriages herself. They settled in Dallas, and not having brought anything with them but clothing and a few household effects, they had furniture made in Dallas.

Move To Collin County.

One year later they moved to Collin County and settled on a farm, nine miles West of McKinney, Mrs. Dulaney's father having bought that farm and another one in Dallas County. That was in 1859. On the Collin County farm she was married to Dr. Joseph E. Dulaney and for a number of years they lived in McKinney, then moving to Bristol, Tenn., where Dr. Dulaney died, after which she moved back to McKinney with her three children and never moved from this county again. One of her daughters died in childhood.

Devoted To Church.

Mrs. Dulaney was a wonderful character and loved by all who knew her. She was devoted to the First Presbyterian Church, which she joined years ago when Dr. Moore was the Pastor. She first professed religion during Major Penn's Protracted Meeting in McKinney, remembered by McKinney's older citizens. For many years she lived in the old family residence on South Chestnut Street, with her son, Joseph Field Dulaney, and her daughter, Miss Corinne Dulaney, who survive her.

Last of Her Family.

Mrs. Dulaney was the last of her family to pass to her reward, her parents and brothers and sisters having preceded her to the grave. Her parents were born in Albemarle County, Virginia, and were of fine old Southern Stock, being among the First Families of Virginia. The family came West and settled in Missouri long before the Civil War, where Mrs. Dulaney was born, and reared in the custom of the better Colonial families.

Following funeral services at the home Saturday the body was laid to rest and the following prominent McKinney citizens served as pallbearers: Henry W. Warden, Dr. W. T. Hoard, Tip Purnell, Jim Thompson, H. L. Shoap, W. Sims Cameron, Ed Dowell and Ed West. The Harris Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Her Survivors.

Besides her son and daughter, Mrs. Dulaney is survived by the following nieces. Mrs. W. D. Howell, Mrs. R. C. Kimbrough, Mrs. Provine and Mrs. Annie Metz, all of McKinney, and Mrs. Alma Houston of Dallas, and Mrs. Beverly of Crowell, Texas, and one nephew, George Thompson of McKinney. Another nephew, John Hill of McKinney, died only recently.

Having been 17 years of age when the Civil War broke out, Mrs. Dulaney remembered well that terrible conflict. She was 97 years old on March 21 last.

Called To Reward

MRS. LUCY ANN DULANEY.

Cotton Week Will Set New Records, Sponsors Declare

Trade organizations, growers, processers, wholesalers and retailers will participate in programs of National Cotton Week, set for May 16 to 24, and recognized officially in Texas by proclamation of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel.

A National Cotton Week Committee has been appointed by the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, which represents every phase of the cotton industry and allied interests in the State. The committee of 38 members, including retail merchants, business association executives, textile manufacturers, publishers of trade papers and educators, will coordinate all the activities and programs surrounding National Cotton Week in Texas, said Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the State-Wide Cotton Committee, in announcing its make-up.

The observance this year will be the eleventh in an unbroken series, begun with the object of increasing the use of cotton and its products at home. In 1931, 14,000 stores in the nation participated, and it is estimated that 150,000 will take part in the movement this year. In 1938, the domestic consumption of cotton was approximately 6,000,000 bales, and if the current rate of consumption in the United States is sustained 10,000,000 will be absorbed this year, Jackson estimated.

An important factor in consumption is the mattress-making program of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Mildred Horton, vice director of the Extension Service and vice chairman of the committee, said that the goal during 1941 is to utilize from 40,000 to 50,000 bales in the mattress and cotton comfort work.

Fashion shows and cotton balls have been suggested as additional means of making the public more cotton conscious. The committee will ask merchants to feature goods made of cotton during the week, and county home demonstration councils will work with service clubs and commercial organizations to promote larger use of cotton products.

The National Cotton Week Committee for Texas includes Luther Sharp of Dallas, chairman; Mildred Horton of A. and M. College, vice chairman; H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service; Dora R. Barnes of A. and M. College; Beulah Blackwell of A. and M. College; Mrs. A. J. Brown of Nederland, president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association; Max Bentley of Abilene. C. H. Bur of Houston; Ivan J. Campbell of Dallas; R. T. Craig of Dallas; B. C. Davis of Austin; H. E. Dill of Dallas; Gentry Dugat of Dallas, Sidney J. Files of Itasca; Mabel Erwin of Texas Technological College, Lubbock; Harold F. Foster of Fort Worth, V. F. Fitzhugh, of Tyler; Roger Q. Flournoy of Dallas; A. M. Goldstein of Waco; Mary Anna Grimes of the Texas Experiment Station, A. and M. College, Sam Hanna of Dallas, J. B. Kirkland of San Antonio; R. W. Knight of Corsicana; O. M. Lowry of Dallas; Charles T. Lux of Austin; Gladys McGill of T. S. C. W., Denton; Clarence R. Miller of Dallas; F. E. Morris of Dallas; Mayor L. T. Murray of Waco; H. G. Mr. Thomasson gave some interesting facts about the W. P. A. Projects in his district, which he said have totalled $36,000,000. The Administrative expense on those projects, he added, was a little over two per cent. He believed the work done under W. P. A. was very beneficial, not only to the communities, but to the workers. These, he said, were provided employment and put on a self-supporting basis, making them better citizens.

Credit To McKinney.

He then highly complimented the work of Engineer Gordon Nesbit, whom had done a most creditable job on the McKinney City Hospital. For the two wings added to the hospital building since it was first erected in 1921 the W. P. A. furnished $31,300.00, Mr. Thomasson said, and the City of McKinney spent $41,803.00. He said it was one of the finest projects in his entire district.

Chairman Tom M. Scott of the Hospital Board, made a brief talk in which he told of how the hospital had proven such a great success and a credit to McKinney.

Mr. Scott urged everyone present to attend the graduation of seven nurses at the Hospital School for Nurses Saturday afternoon and also to visit and inspect the hospital when the staff of physicians and nurses, assisted by members of the Board of Governors, will hold open house Sunday afternoon, May 11.

Collin Free Fair Honors Future Farmer Youths

The Collin County Free Fair Association entertained Officers and Directors of the Future Farmers Fat Stock and Breeder Show with a banquet and program Thursday night at Woods Cafe, when representatives of the five Future Farmers Chapters from the County, including Plano, Blue Ridge, Frisco, Farmersville, and McKinney, were present.

Among the business and civic leaders of this city and county present were Thos. Johnson, prominent McKinney banker and President of the Chamber of Commerce; Elton Riggs, President of the Collin County Free Fair Association; Secretary W. Hammond Moore, of the Chamber of Commerce and Free Fair Association; Thos. Hughston, Manager of the Collin County Cotton Oil Company, of McKinney; Roy Phillips, Manager of the Farmersville Cotton Oil Company; E. W. Dobbs, Manager of the Cabell's Milk Plant in this city; H. C. Holmes, Educational Field Man for twenty big cotton oil mills, and wife; Clint Haggard, substantial farmer and landowner of near Plano; Don W. Bagwill, City Editor of these papers, and the following Vocational - Agriculture instructors from the county: Elbert Randles of Plano, D. E. ◆ ◆ ◆

Active Group.

As our readers are aware, the five Future Farmer Chapters recently met here, organizing a Future Farmer Fat Stock and Breeder Show, to be held each Spring, the first of which will be held next Spring. The Collin County Free Fair Association, desiring to show their appreciation of what the boys are doing in their cooperation with the Free Fair, sponsored the Thursday evening program and banquet, which proved most enjoyable to the large attendance.

Thos. Johnson Speaker.

Thos. Johnson, the principal speaker, said these farm boys, the future farm leaders of the nation, should be encouraged and that the future depends on these youths. "As long as youth is hopeful, with a vision, and a sound theory, our country is all right," he said.

After expressing his interest in young men, he declared, "The world of today expects more of the young man than formerly. It is to their credit that they want to become a part of this great program of ours, that they want to be a man, a good citizen, and a part of society, which speaks well for these youths. You're molding yourselves in good citizenship in this worthy program. Happy is the man who has a desire to go for good citizenship."

Declaring that money doesn't bring happiness, Mr. Johnson said that the most important thing a man can do is to be a good citizen, and have a willingness to carry whatever burdens come upon him, and to be able to 'take it on the chin.' If you are that kind of a man, there is a big place for you as long as you live."

President Riggs.

President Elton Riggs of the Free Fair Association commended the boys for the commendable program in which they are engaged, and offered them the fullest cooperation of the Fair Association.

The Future Farmers were also commended by Mr. Dobbs, Mr. Haggard, Mr. Hughston, Mr. Phillips, Mr. Bagwill and other speakers.

Vocational-Agriculture instructors also spoke during the program.

Mr. Holmes, Educational Field Man of a large number of cotton oil mills brought along a film showing beef cattle, their care and how to prepare them for the show ring, which proved most enjoyable to the men and boys present. He was introduced by Mr. Phillips, Manager of the Farmersville Oil Mill Company. Mr. Holmes, as previously mentioned, is connected with twenty big mills, ten of the Singleton Mills and ten of the Consumers Cotton Oil Mills.

The program was a most enjoyable one and drew the thanks of the boys and men present to the Collin County Free Fair Association for a splendid entertainment.

There are hundreds of uses for cotton and its by-products. People of the South alone could increase the consumption of cotton many times if they would use more cotton in every way possible. New usese, new inventions and manufacturing refinements are rapidly putting cotton in the spotlight in a hundred different ways.

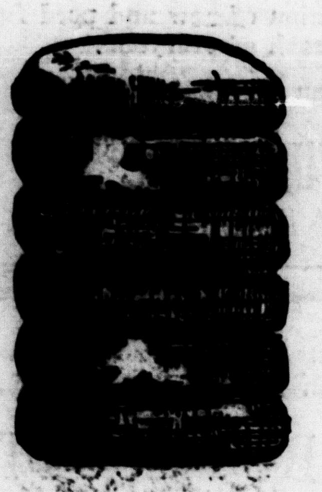
And during COTTON WEEK, the merchants of McKinney are all ready to show you that cotton is one of the most comfortable, versatile, necessary and economical materials you can use for most purposes. Visit the merchants advertising in this issue this week, see the many displays and special values - - and be convinced.

- -EVERYONE CAN USE MORE COTTON- -



Texas is the greatest cotton-producing state in the Union and one of the greatest cotton-producing regions on earth. Therefore it behooves us to make the greatest possible use of cotton products. To us belongs the privilege of setting an example for the world to follow, of wearing more cotton clothing, of utilizing more cotton in its thousands of uses. During National Cotton Week let us all be reminded that the price of cotton depends largely on the educational work done to promote its consumption. Let's talk cotton.

Joe C. Moore Of Melissa Brings Home Ribbons From Gainesville Dairy Show

Coming back home with an armful of blue, purple and red ribbons, Joe C. Moore of Melissa, President of the Collin County Pure Bred Livestock Association, says the annual dairy classification show at Gainesville Wednesday proved a splendid success. Six counties participated in the show, with cattlemen present from Collin, Cooke, Grayson, Fannin, Montague, and Denton Counties.

Fifty-seven head of cattle were displayed, Mr. Moore showing seven head from his herd of fine Jerseys at Melissa. On those seven head of cattle, Mr. Moore topped the classification show, winning three blue ribbons, first prize; a purple signifying grand champion, and four red, or second place ribbons.

Considering the fact that only seven blue ribbons were awarded in the entire show, Mr. Moore's winning three of them speaks well for this well-known North Collin Jersey cattle man. E. R. Eudaley and Mr. Copeland of the Texas A. & M. College were judges of the show. Mr. Moore was presented with a 10 and a 5-gallon milk can for his winnings.

DR. CHAS. M. SHUMWAY

Gibson and Roy Caldwell have sold the large lot on South Tennessee Street, where the Dr. Caldwell Sanitarium and home-place stood for many years, to Dr. Chas M. Shumway, McKinney Physician and Surgeon. The deal was a cash one, handled by the McKinney Realty Company, Tom W. Perkins and Frank Blackwell.

As our readers are aware, the large two-story Sanitarium of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Caldwell was recently razed by the sons, the debris moved away and the lot cleared off. Dr. Shumway probably will improve same soon. He is a believer in McKinney and knows that buying McKinney business property is a safe business investment.

The lot purchased by Dr. Shumway is 100x200, and faces South Tennessee Street. Dr. Shumway, a successful, well-known and liked McKinney physician and surgeon owns considerable Collin County farm land, as well at considerable brick rental property in this city.

YOUR HOME TOWN

HARD RAIN BRINGS CATFISH

THOSE WHO MAY DOUBT that it sometimes rains fish have only to go to Joe Pinter at his eating place at 5109 East Grand Avenue in Dallas and ask to see a couple of lively specimens which he will assure you appeared at his place last Sunday during a rainstorm. When the hard rain had stopped, Pinter said, he walked into the front yard and found a small catfish floundering around on the ground. He picked it up and took it inside. An employe walked out the back door and found another catfish flopping around in a shallow pool of water. Both fish were placed in a bowl of water, and since then have became quite tame, although they are lively enough when disturbed. Pinter said he named one of them Whirlaway and the other Seabiscuit He said they feed from his fingers when he holds food at the edege of the water.

AMERICAN DOUGHBOY IS getting religion as well as his military training at the army cantonments. Capt. David C. Sullivan Post Chaplain at Westover Field, Mass., disclosed that more than $12,000,000 has been appropriated for 500 army chapels which will have the appearance of the tyical American small-town church. Each will cost over $21,000 and seat 400 soldiers. It will be complete even to an electric organ and will be so planned that it can be used for Catholic, Protestant or Jewish services. Of the total number of chaplains in the nine corps areas, 688 are of the Protestant faiths, 226 of the Catholic and 7 of the Jewish faith.

DAILY PRAYER.

AND HERE'S SOME MIGHTY good philosophy, which we believe you will enjoy:

If I can do some good today,
If I can serve along life's way,
If I can something hopeful say,
Lord, show me how.

If I can right a human wrong,
If I can help to make one strong,
If I can cheer with smile or song,
Lord, show me how.

If I can aid one in distress,
If I can make a burden less,
If I can spread more happiness,
Lord, show me how.

If I can do a kindly deed,
If I can help someone in need,
If I can sow a fruitful seed,
Lord, show me how.

If I can feed a hungry heart,
If I can give a better start,
If I can fill a nobler part,
Lord, show me how.

HER DAY.

ONE OF THE FINEST TRIBUTES to Mother we have ever read was an editorial in Sunday's Dallas News, entitled "Her Day," and reprinted for the news may 9, 1937. It follows:

"She has had her day, of course—three hundred and sixty-five days to be exact, three hundred and sixty-six some years. For she does not take a day off, not even a two weeks' vacation without pay. To be sure Herself goes to church on the Lord's day dressed in her Sunday best, but there is Junior by her side in his stiff collar and Mary Anne starched and pigtailed and patent-leathered and there is no magic ring to wish them that way, only soap, water, a stiff hair-brush and persuasion that sometimes takes even a little more than the infinite patience of which she is possessed. Junior and Mary Anne are home from school on Saturdays, too, and if you stand around to watch a while—and if you are Himself, you may be sure that you do a good deal of just standing around and watching—you will realize that there are no holidays for her.

"Then there comes the time when Junior marches off very grandly to college in full certainty of more knowledge than his elders have ever possessed and she spends a good many hours worrying about him so far away. Why—and Mary pity women!—the business of worrying has just begun, for there will never be a moment through all the years when her mind is not busy speculating on what he is doing and whether this little snip of a silly girl he is married to knows how to look after him and can ever learn all of the little necessary things that Herself has known since he was cradled. And then there is Mary Anne, grown up and married off and the little flock of round-faced Mary Annes that have grown up around her knees ahd that seems to be everywhere on the floor you step and that wouldn't ever grow up to be strong and healthy and beautiful girls like her own Mary Anne if Herself were not eternally sharp-eyed about seeing to them.

"A day for her? Why, she never asked for a day. She never asked for anything, except now and then a prayer to a very dear God to be good to them and not let them get hurt. And what she did not ask for, you may be sure she did not get. Not even enough of the love and affection that were truly hers. Because you know we took her for granted. She was always there, ready to find a filling for tiny stomachs, to wash diapers and wipe away her tears from forlorn little heart-breaks. Of course, she was always there. She would always be there. Only there comes a day, when—she isn't.

"And that is her day, the long day when the realization comes to us that she will never be there again to do the things, the million things the little things that were just one big thing. It is only God who could bring her rest."

McKinney Weekly Democrat-Gazette

FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR — McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1941. SECOND SECTION — ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884

Honors Conferred On Lt. Col. Aubrey Vaughn Hamilton

Unusual honors were conferred on a McKinney young man, Aubrey Vaughn Hamilton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hamilton of this city, at a Mother's Day review held at College Station Sunday.

Lt. Col. Hamilton, a Senior student in Texas A. & M. College, of the Composite Regiment, was one of the nine students who have displayed outstanding work and ability during the current school year. He received a saber, given by the United Daughters of the Confederacy for being the outstanding student in advance military science. This is a competitive award, but is not rotated. Mrs. J. B. McFarland, State President of the U. D. C., made the presentation.

Prominence is attached to the presentation given Mr. Hamilton in "The Battalion," Texas A. & M. student tri-weekly publication. Also of importance is the space given in the issue, totaling perhaps a third or more of the entire front page, in which Mr. Hamilton writes on the "Trials and tribulations Of The Class of 1941." Several columns in length and most interesting throughout, his story concludes:

"Our reign as Seniors is fast drawing to an end and what was formerly known as Senior Authority is now little more than something people talk about. "The old order changeth," someone has said. Surely that goes for A. & M. today.

"But regardless of our opinions concerning things of that nature, there's not one of us who isn't proud from the ground up to say that he is a Texas Aggie. It's a brotherhood that will stay with us as long as we live. Most of us have a sort of love for this place.

"So there it is—the history of our class. . .A class that we think has faced more trials, tribulations and unprecedented experiences than any other in A. & M.'s history."

All McKinney and Collin County extend congratulations to Lt. Col. Hamilton upon the splendid honor that has come to him.

Last Will And Testament Of F. B. Pope Filed

The last will and testament of the late Fletcher B. Pope, reputed to have been one of the wealthiest men in Collin County, has been filed for probate with County Clerk W. C. Hagy by Attorney W. P. Abernathy.

No specific amount is given as the value of the estate, described as worth "more than $100,000.00."

Thirty-three per cent of the estate, including the residence at 303 West Virginia Street and the lake home were bequeathed to the widow, Mrs. Helen Louise Pope, and thirty-three per cent to minor daughter, Sandra Louise, the latter share to be held in trust by Mrs. Pope until the child has reached her maturity, at which time it reverts to her in full. Mrs. Pope is made Trustee of the daughter's share with absolute power to administer it as she sees fit.

Should Sandra Louise die before she reaches 21 years of age and has not married and leaves no dependants, her share reverts to her mother. If she should marry and have a family and should die before she is 21 the estate is still to be held in trust by Mrs. Pope until her daughter's children reach their maturity and it reverts to them.

Mrs. Pope and John W. Pope, Sr., brother of the deceased, are both named Executors of the estate without bond.

The will is dated November 13, 1935, and is witnessed by A. M. Scott and Earl Walker.

It is further specified in the will that Mrs. Pope receives all of the household effects and Mr. Pope's watch and that all of his diamonds and other jewelry is to be divided equally between her and their daughter.

There is no itemized list of Mr. Pope's holdings, but is generally known that he possessed a number of the principal business buildings in McKinney and large property holdings in Collin County, as well as stocks, bonds and securities in the many enterprises in which he was engaged, including his interest in the Central National Bank, of which he was President.

Other stipuations in the will provide for bequeaths to brothers, newphews and others.

A. M. Scott, Add G. Wilson and Joe E. Largent have been appointed appraisers of the estate.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reinhardt spent Sunday with their son, George Reinhardt, Jr., who is a patient in the Medical Arts Hospital in Dallas.

However, Hon. Everett L. Looney, prominent in Texas political circles, will be here Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for an address in behalf of Mr. Johnson. In fact, Mr. Looney, it is said, is taking up where Mr. Johnson left off in his speaking itinerary, fulfilling Mr. Johnson's speaking schedule.

His friends are urged to hear Mr. Looney speak in his behalf here Saturday morning.

Hess, German Official, Flees To Scotland

In what appears to have been the most important desertion in modern times the escape to Scotland by Rudolph Hess, oldest and closest confidant of Adolph Hitler, was reported from Glasgow Monday night.

Piloting a Messerschmitt plane, Hess parachuted to a field out in the country near Glasgow and was later reported in a Glasgow Hospital suffering from a broken ankle.

Roosevelt Will Broadcast From White House

It was announced from the White House Tuesday that because President Roosevelt had a slight illness, he would not broadcast to the nation Wednesday night, as previously announced. Instead, he will deliver a fireside chat on the night of May 27, at which time he will have as his guests the officers of the Pan-American Union, now meeting in the Pan-American Building in Washington.

Interest in the forthcoming broadcast is world-wide, due to the fact that the President is expected to outline this government's foreign policy. The address will reach all of North America and the Southern Republics in Latin America as well as being heard by short wave throughout the world.

Collin Farmers Plan Visit To Experiment Farm

A large number of Collin County farmers will go to the Government Experiment Station near Denton Friday, May 16, to attend the Annual Field Day exercises which will be held there the entire day. P. B. Dunkle, Superintendent of the Station, will have charge of the demonstrations and has invited County Agent Jack McCullough to come over and assist him. Mr. McCullough will go over Thursday, and Friday will help escort the farmers over the Station, showing them the results of the latest experiments in corn, cotton and many other farm crops common to this section of Texas.

"Public demand for the latest results of experiments being conducted with farm crops at this station," says Superintendent Dunkle, "makes annual field day necessary. Farmers by the thousands who have attended previous field day events found they got the information they wanted by seeing the growing crops and by hearing the results discussed by competent guides and research workers. Many experiments are under way at this time and we urge farmers to come early Friday morning as it will take them a full day to cover the Experiment Station and see all there is to see."

Every farmer in Collin County as well as all other residents of this flourishing section of Texas will be glad to learn that President Roosevelt Friday put his stamp of approval on a WPA appropriation of almost $800,000.00 for the construction of farm-to-market highways in this county.

The information was telegrahed to County Judge Jewell E. Abernathy by Congressman Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House.

The telegram follows:

"WPA application 50652 covering reconstruction and improvement of county-owned roads throughout Collin County approved today and forwarded to San Antonio, (State WPA Headquarters). Seven Hundred Thirty-Six Thousand Eight Hundred Ten Dollars Federal Funds approved."

Members of the County Commissioners' Court with the County Engineer have already mapped out plans for the improvements to be made, feeling confident the money would be forthcoming. The entire amount, together with the money the county will add to it, will be spent in building rock roads in the outlying districts of the county. The money will be spent only on farm-to-market roads, benefiting thousands of farmers throughout Collin County.

Editorial Expression

He is richest who is content with least, for content is the wealth of nature.—Socrates.

Be a loyal McKinney citizen by patronizing home merchants. They have what you are looking for, and reasonably priced, too.

The mere lapse of years is not life. To eat, to drink, and sleep; to be exposed to darkness and the light; to pace around in the mill of habit, and turn through into an instrument of trade—this is not life. Knowledge, truth, love, beauty, goodness, faith, alone can give vitality to the mechanism of existence.—James Martineau.

There is a new-made mound in Pecan Grove Cemetery, Saturday where lies the earthly remains of Mrs. Lucy Ann Dulaney, 97, perhaps the city's and county's oldest, and one of the best-known, pioneer, and beloved sweet Christian characters. Mrs. Dulaney was called to her reward Friday, to join the other Saints who have passed on to a rich and deserved reward, at her home in McKinney. She had lived an eventful, worthwhile and helpful life, rich not only in years but bountiful in Christian experiences. Her going removes from this city and county a true, noble Christian character. Her life was a benediction to her relatives, loved ones, friends, and acquaintances. Through her many kind, neighborly, Christian acts and manifestations she has left a monument to her memory that will live long in the minds and hearts of those who were fortunate enough to know her.

FFA FAT STOCK SHOW.

Boys of the 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America of Cooke County combined a few weeks ago in holding a Fat Stock Show which proved a great success and should be an incentive to the farm boys of Collin and other counties. A. S. Brient, County Agent of Cooke County, was one of the moving spirits in the show, as was Prof. Derryberry, Instructor in Vocational-Agriculture, in the High School at Gainesville.

Merchants of Gainesville and other points in Cooke County, cooperated enthusiastically, and after the judging of the entries the calves and hogs were auctioned off and the merchants paid the neat sum of $10,183.24 for the entire number of stock exhibited by the boys. There were no sheep entered this year, but Agent Brient hopes to have some of the boys bring in sheep next year.

Calves, by a great majority, dominated the show and also brought the fancy prices in the auction, some bringing as high as from 15 to 25 cents per pound, which any commission man or packing house buyer will admit is far above the usual market for calves on the hoof. The hogs brought better than 8½ to 9 cents on the average.

Interest in the Gainesville show and the auction which followed is very pronounced among the farm boys of Collin County, says County Agent Jack McCullough, who is training more than 300 boys in the 4-H Clubs of this county in all branches of agriculture and stock raising. And the boys of the five Collin Clubs of the Future Farmers of America are likewise intensely interested in the results in Cooke County, realizing what it will mean to them when they hold their own Fat Stock and Breeders' Show in McKinney next Spring.

ARMY DRAFTS VAST CONSTRUCTION PLAN.

A vast new program of defense plant construction and expansion to cost approximately $1,500,000,000 has been drafted by the War Department, in Washington, and is expected to reach the stage of contract negotiations soon.

Almost equaling the $1,750,000,000 of defense plant contract, the new program is designed to increase defense production capacity to the point where it will supply full combat equipment for an army of 2,000,000 men, plus so-called "critical" or basic items for a force twice that size.

Previous plans were based on furnishing full equipment for 1,400,000 men, plus "critical" items for 2,000,000.

Another purpose of the program is substantially to boost the capacity for turning out munitions needed by the British, praticularly long-range bombers. Experts say Britain must have such planes in great numbers if she is eventually to wage widespread offensive warfare against Germany.

In authoritative quarters the program was reported to call for construction of more than 30 ordnance factories; expansion of at least three existing bomber engine plants and dozens of other types of defense factories; construction of two new bomber fuselage frame factories, and the acquisition of two new bomber engine "capacities."

The latter term would cover either new plants or the conversion to engine manufacture of plants which now produce some other type of equipment.

The program would be financed partly by funds recently allocated by President Roosevelt from the $7,000,000,000 lease-lend appropriation and partly by construction and expansion funds given to the army directly by congress.

McKinney boasts a large number of golfers. We've known some golfers, however, who talk a better game than they play.

Soil Conservation Service surveys show that 282,000,000 acres of crop and range land in the United States have been ruined or severely impoverished by erosion. Terracing is the answer to this problem.

According to the Census Bureau, there are fewer sharecroppers in the U. S. now than at any time in the last two decades. The 1940 census found 541,291 sharecroppers in 16 states—234,987 less than in 1930.

These are the days when one's thoughts turn to the closing of school, to all-day programs, of dinners on the ground, to baseball games between school teams, and to exhibitions—remember them—and school plays. In our school days, we looked anxiously forward to the closing of school and particularly to the attending events, which always commanded primary interest in the community and attracted hundreds from miles around. Time may have erased from our mind many events of our younger days, but it can never blot out from our memory the closing of school.

RADIOS ON THE FARMS.

Although 65 per cent of their homes have radios, only 8 per cent of Texas farm boys and girls use them to listen to educational broadcasts.

This was the charge made by Dr. A. L. Chapman, University of Texas radio reserch expert, who warned that futrue school teachers must assume the jobb of instilling "dial consciousness" in their rural charges.

Director of the University's Bureau of Research in Education by Radio, Dr. Chapman said that while a recent bureau survey showed Texas 'teen age farm youth largely prefer "hill billy" music, another study proved conclusively that all school children can be guided to a preference for the good programs available.

Dr. Chapman also charged teachers with the responsibility of aiding pupils in detection of propaganda, by teaching discrimination between good and bad sources of information.

BEAUTY ON PARADE.

Beauty will be on parade in McKinney Monday night, June 2, when the McKinney Municipal Swimming Pool will be opened with a bathing beauty revue, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Since the swimming pool was built in Finch Park several years ago, the Jaycees have annually sponsored the program, holding a beauty revue and otherwise providing a well-rounded, entertaining program, enjoyed by the thousands who always attended.

President Clyde Doyle of the Jaycees already has named committees to arrange for the program, which the organization hopes will be the best in the series of revues. That is a worthy goal of these young McKinney business men, for McKinney and Collin County citiens recall the enjoyable programs given in previous years, as gorgeous beauties paraded before bewildered judges and applauding crowds.

Business firms will again sponsor entries in the beauty revue this year.

SERVICE OF TRAINEES MAY BE TRIPLED SOON.

A plan to induce thousands of selective service trainees to remain in uniform voluntarily two years beyond the compulsory one-year period is reported to be under consideration by army officials in Washington.

The proposal might involve increasing the total land forces beyond the present goal of 1,418,000 men by June 30, army men said, when interviewed.

Some Senators said they had heard unconfirmed reports that the army might seek legislation to keep draftees in training "for the duration of the emergency." Some sources in the War Department, however, inclined to the view that needed combat strength could be raised without resorting to new draft legislation to obtain it.

One suggestion for increasing the strength was that of offering re-enlistment bonuses to the ablest trainees, perhaps exceeding the $75 and $150 gratuities now given to soldiers who sign up for new "hitches."

The increase is being considered because, it was said, in case of war the 473,000 regular army troops would be spread dangerously thin along the coastlines, island possessions, and Alaska.

FDR ASKS NATION FOR FULL SUPPORT OF COTTON WEEK.

Urging the American people to give their fullest support and cooperation to National Cotton Week, May 16-24, President Franklin D. Roosevelt declares that the cotton industry is confronted with one of the most serious situations in its history.

The President told Oscar Johnston, President of the National Cotton Council, that "it is my sincere hope that the observance of National Cotton Week will serve to call the attention of the American people to the importance of this great agricultural commodity in the economic life of our country."

Although domestic use of cotton during recent months has been unparalleled, Mr. Roosevelt said, "All indications point to a domestic carryover at the end of the current year equal to the all-time high of 13,000,000 bales." He declared that this huge surplus arises directly from the wartime loss of America's export cotton markets.

"More than eleven million people in the eighteen cotton producing states are directly dependent upon cotton for a livelihood," he continued, "while an additional fourteen million, scattered fro mthe Atlantic to the Pacific derive at least a portion of their income from cotton. Our entire population is vitally affected by the welfare of cotton.

"This situation makes it all the more important that we continue and redouble our efforts to increase consumption here at home. For this reason, National Cotton Week is an event of particular signifance this year, and it should have the fullest support and cooperation of the American people."

Simultaneously with the receipt of President Roosevelt's message, Mr. Johnston announced that governors of seven of the cotton-producing states have already issued proclamations officially designating May 16-24 as National Cotton Week in their states.

Mr. Johnston said that all indications pointed to a record-breaking observance of Cotton Week this year. The event is conducted on a nationwide scale by the National Cotton Council, representing raw cotton, and the Cotton-Textile Institute, representing cotton manufacturers.

Mother Has Her Day Sunday; Many Gifts Presented

Mother had her day Sunday. Sons and daughters took a back seat, and it was most gratifying to see the gleam of pleasure in the eyes of McKinney Mothers and to see the unmistakable pleasure in the faces of fathers who joined the children in making Sunday really Mother's Day. Mother was dined and entertained and waited upon like she were a queen. She was showered with flowers, candy and other gifts. Sons and daughters proudly adorned their suits and dresses with red roses, and those whose blessed mothers had gone to their last reward wore white flowers in sacred memory of their loved one—Mother.

McKinney business houses did a flourishing business as a result of the advertising the past few days in the papers, making special offers on Mother's Day candy, flowers, jewelry, and other suitable gifts. When it came to jewelry, father took the prominent role, but he did not care to appear in the picture, leaving it to his sons and daughters to gladden the heart of Mother.

Songs that appealed to the Mothers of Texas were sung by the Stamps Quartet Sunday afternoon, broadcasting from the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. This splendid musical organization recently presented two concerts in McKinney. This is the fifth consecutive year the qlartet has sung on Mother's Day.

Former McKinney Man Passes Away

Mrs. Frank Lewis of this city received a telegram Sunday from Mrs. Olin Dearing, informing her of the death of Mrs. Dearing's husband in Austin. His funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Wilke Manor Funeral Home in Austin.

Mr. Dearing was well-known in McKinney, where the family lived for many years, having an apartment at the home of Mrs. Lewis. He was connected with the Wilcox Lumber Company in this city. They moved from here to Fort Worth and were living at San Marcos at the time of his passing.

Surviving are his wife and two children, Kathryn and Olin, Jr.

The many McKinney friends of this well-known family extend condolences to Mrs. Dearing and children in the loss of their husband and father.

Ideal Weather Permits Farmers To Get In Fields

From an interurban car Saturday going to Dallas McKinney residents were very glad to see so many farmers at work in their fields. For so many weeks they had been hampered in their usual spring planting, but the two good days of sunshine had hardened the soil sufficiently to allow farmers in all sections of the county to work in the fields again, and on both sides of the Interurban line men and tractors and mules were seen in practically all of the fields.

In McKinney Saturday the fair weather seemed to affect everybody. While the farmers were at work in the fields, their wives and families were in the County Seat shopping. The merchants report a fine volume of business. Part of this was due to the Mother's Day specials offered by many of the McKinney merchants and the sales of jewelry, flowers, clothing, candy, and other merchandise were exceptionally heavy.

While the sun was bright, there was a balmy breeze from the South and the day was ideal. Sunday a light rain several times during the day cooled the atmosphere off considerably, and Monday started in to be another of those marvelous Texas Spring days that make everyone glad to be a Texan.

Jean and Joan Graves of Sherman were guests Sunday of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Graves.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bagwill in this city were their children and their families, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reinhardt of Mineral Wells, Texas; Editor and Mrs. A. A. Bagwill of Plano; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Melton and little daughter, Glenda Gayle, of the Cottage Hill community, and Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Bagwill of this city.

◆ ◆ ◆

T. E. Enloe of the Enloe community, Southeast of McKinney and his daughter, Miss Minnie Fae Enloe, the latter being a Junior in N. T. S. T. C., at Denton, visited in the county seat Saturday. While here Miss Enloe called by this office and subscribed for the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for a year to be sent to her sister, Mrs. Noah Cheek, at Altadena, Calif. We thank Miss Enloe for her visit and subscription.

Air Corps Needs Are Pointed Out

No small part of the work of securing faster, more powerful, and safer airplanes and equipment is the inspection of aircraft materials. Parachutes, goggles, camera lenses, instruments, and all other equipment must be inspected by competent well-trained men.

Through an examination announced some time ago, the Civil Service Commission has been seeking experienced men for procurement inspector positions in the Air Corps of the War Department. The Commission has not been able to obtain enough men for these positions. On the contrary, the needs have been extended to other fields than those in the original announcement. Five new fields in which persons may qualify have been added, and the options now are. Aircraft, engines, instruments, parachutes, aircraft propellers, tools and gages, radio, aircraft miscellaneous materials, textiles, fur-lined clothing and optical.

In general, mechanical experience, which may include apprenticeship, is required in the field applied for. For only four options aircraft, parachutes, propellers, and aircraft materials) need this experience be specifically on aircraft materials. College courses in engineering may be substituted for part of the experience. Applicants will not have to take a written test, but will be rated on their experience and education. For details concerning the amended requirements applicants should consult Announcement No. 6-249 Revised of April 22, 1941.

Original appointments will be made at salaries ranging from $1,620 to $2,600 a year. Opportunities for advancement are excellent. Applications may be filed until further notice with the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. Qualified persons are urged to apply for details to the Secretary at Wright Field; to any first or second-class post office; to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.; or to any of the Commission's District offices.

Registration Day Is Due In July Assert Officials

A selective service proclamation calling for the registration of an estimated 1,000,000 men to have reached 21 since the first R-day last Oct. 16 was ready for the President's signature over the week-end.

The proclamation draft was completed by selective service officials Saturday afternoon but it contained a blank space for the registration date, President Roosevelt will decide that. It was planned to transmit the draft to the White House next week with the recommendation that the date be set early in July, preferably the first day of the month.

Officials said they expected the proclamation to be issued within three weeks. They said that plans are being perfected to hold a lottery for the new registrants ten days after registration.

New regulations have been drafted providing that the registration be conducted by local selective service boards instead of by county election officials as in the case of the first R-day. Each member of a local board will be in charge of precinct registration station. They will be assisted by volunteer workers.

Importance Of Knowing State Traffic Laws

The importance of knowing the traffic laws of Texas was clearly demonstrated Thursday afternoon when ten applicants for drivers' license were refused licenses for failure to answer all of the questions on traffic laws, and two were rejected for failure to meet the driver's test.

Examinations were conducted in the office of Justice of the Peace Clyde Doyle by A. F. Temple, Highway Patrolman of Dallas, representing the Drivers' License Division of the Department of Public Safety, who spends every Thursday afternoon in McKinney. He was assisted by Highway Patrolman C. B. Boustead, also of Dallas.

During the afternoon one chauffeur was granted a license and also 11 licenses were issued to autoists who drive their own cars. Six commercial operators were given licenses. Sixteen persons who had lost or misplaced their original licenses were issued new ones after passing the test.

Patrolman Temple will be in McKinney in Justice of the Peace Doyle's office next Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Craft and twin daughters Nancy and Betty spent the week-end in Houston.

Hundreds Of Friends Visit City Hospital

Monday was National Hospital Day in the United States and thousands of hospitals throughout the nation, including the McKinney City Hospital, held open house Sunday in observance of the event. Seventeen hospitals in Dallas joined the celebration in a similar manner.

In McKinney hundreds of people, many of them from other parts of Collin County, flocked to the local hospital where they were cordially received by members of the Board of Governors and the hospital staff, headed by Miss Anna B. Smith, the efficient Superintendent. They were escorted through the many wards and private rooms and departments, including the Pre-Natal Clinic, which was equipped through the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the X-Ray room, which cost the city $6,000.00 to equip.

Tom M. Scott, Chairman of the Board of Governors, and other members of the Board assisted in receiving the visitors and taking them through the beautiful building and explaining the many interesting features. All members of the Board are proud of the hospital and the whole of McKinney and Collin County regard it as one of the A-1 Hospitals in Texas, having been given that rating by the National Hospital Association.

Saturday afternoon seven graduate nurses of the School of Nursing were given their diplomas by Chairman Tom M. Scott during appropriate commencement exercises and they are now qualified to nurse in any standard hospital in the nation. There are seven other nurses still taking the course and more will enter shortly.

Mayor Tom W. Perkins and City Commissioners J. H. Snapp and Lyman D. Robinson attended the commencement, as did members of the Hospital Board, Dr. W. T. Hoard, Will I. Bryan, W. Sims Cameron, Ed Dowell, John D. Reese and T. E. Craig.

The graduating nurses were: Misses Eloise Hollis of Leonard; Evelyn Sue Simpson, McKinney; Pauline Simms, Frisco; Jessie Max Jean, Sulphur Springs; Dorothy Louise Haney, McKinney; Wilma Jean Rose, McKinney, and Opal Irene Cox, Nevada.

A forceful address was delivered at the graduation exercises Saturday by Rev. Earl J. Patton, Pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Mayor Perkins was introduced by Chairman Scott, delivering a short interesting address.

Nice refreshments were served to the large crowd.

Shortage Of Physicians In Medical Corps

There is a shortage of physicians and surgeons in the Medical Corps, and young men of the medical profession who have registered under the Selective Service Act, can better serve as Medical officers than as inductees for military training.

This information was received by H. H. Neilson and Ula Saunders, Secretaries of the two local Draft Boards, from General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director. He says the War Department recently announced several thousand vacancies in the Medical Corps Reserve and that physicians and surgeons commissioned would be given the rank of First Lieutenant. While no practicing physician whose services are needed in the community will be inducted, he said, he also called attention to the fact that the nation's armed forces for medical men must also be filled.

The local Boards were instructed to get in touch with any physicians who have registered in this territory and ask them to communicate with the Corps Area Surgeon, Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Splendid Donation Of Furniture To McKinney City Hospital By Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of the McKinney City Hospital, of which Miss Billie Wilcox is President, has recently donated two valuable pieces of furniture, an obstetrical table and a desk, to the hospital, costing $310.00. The furniture, greatly needed by the hospital, is greatly appreciated according to Miss A. B. Smith, Superintendent.

The Hospital Auxiliary thanks their many friends for helping them raise this money for such a worthy cause. During their drive for funds, they sponsored a book review and received portions of receipts for a certain period from the McKinney Dry Goods Company.

Miss Wilcox is highly pleased with the assistance of friends in helping them in this worthy cause. The Auxiliary has been organized only a few years, Mrs. Tom M. Scott having served as the first President. Other presidents, in addition to Miss Wilcox, have been Mrs. E. L. Burton and Miss Polly Snapp. Miss Wilcox was re-elected for her second term of office.
